

Our burndown chart is heavily weighted in the second half of the sprint b/c even though we assigned user stories pretty early, we all wanted to focus on the upcoming C01 assignment that was due that week. Also the velocity for this sprint is 44 which is lower than our previous sprint which was 56 b/c we decided to take on less user stories for this sprint as we have less members than before (one of our team member dropped the course).
